HOLIDAY EXHIBITION 2021: NOVEMBER 27- DECEMBER 17

Three honored Russian artists, one show in the Art gallery. Vetrov's scenes of Russian villages in different seasons of the year, churches in ruins, his home, and his mother are all captured by his discerning eye with brilliant color added to his etchings. Meanwhile, the late Stanislav Nikireev's black & white etchings embody the seasons, nature, and its creatures with stunning detail. Makoveeva works present a rare combination of animalism and graphic art, with her superb dry points showing the actual direction of contemporary art.

Original paintings, mixed media, and etchings of the following Russian-American artists will be featured at the exhibit: Alexander Vetrov, People's
