Stanislav Nikireyev (1932- 2007)

Stanislav Nikireyev is one of the best etching artists ever to come from Russia. He was born in 1932 in the Russian Tambov Region. He acquired much of his techniques and skills while a student at the Penza Art School and then later at the Surikov Art Institute in Moscow. For his excellent work, he was awarded the special status of an Honored Artist of Russia, and later the status of People's Artist of Russia from the Russian government and he was elected as a Member of Russian Academy of Arts. In 1990, he won the Russian Gold Medal for Fine Arts. His works have been shown in numerous exhibitions and shows in such diverse locations as; Moscow, Saint Petersburg, Prague, Berlin, London, Tokyo, Washington, New York & Chicago.

Stanislav Nikireyev's black & white etchings capture all the seasons of nature and its creatures both from the past and from more current eras, producing many diverse and beautiful country scenes. Some of his best known works are; The Kremlin in Rostov the Great, made in 1993, Fall of the Leaves, made in 1984, Two Trees, made in 1999, Old Magpie Nest, made in 1983, Dandelions, made in 2004, Spring Flooding, made in 1975, Golden Rosebush On The Hill, made in 1977, Magpie, made in 1981, Aunt Frosia's Yard, made in 1990, Apple Tree in Blossom, made in 1978, The Hoarfrost, made in 1987, Winter Landscape, made in 1972, Bud's In Silence," made in 1983 and Before Sunrise, made in 1994.
